

Planner: Give effective feedback

Answer these questions to prepare to give effective feedback — either reinforcing or redirecting.

Person or people who need this feedback:
Document the details
What is the issue I've noticed? Example: Diane is too quiet in meetings.
What are the observable behaviors and facts around the issue? Example: She hasn't spoken at all in the past two meetings and only once in the meeting before that.
What is the impact of this issue on results? Example: Meetings are our only chance to raise issues with the production team. Without input, we could face a product launch delay.
Create a conversation roadmap
When and where will I share this feedback?
How I plan to open the conversation: Examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • "Diane, I'd like to share some feedback about today's meeting. Do you have a few minutes?" • "Diane, I noticed that ... The impact is ..."
How do I expect the person or people to react? And how will I respond?
What are the main questions I want to ask? Examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • "Can you help me understand why this is happening?" • "What might you do differently in the future and how can I help?"
I will close the conversation by saying _____. Examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • "Thank you for your effort in this. It sounds like we agree that you'll do X and I'll do Y." • "I'll send an email recapping what we've both agreed to, and then let's follow up on <DATE>."
